are clearly labeled "Demo only · not a real vacancy," with fictional employers and no application links, real publication dates, or claims of verified Malaysia eligibility.

JSearch remains disabled: no JSearch or RapidAPI requests were made, and the page no longer calls the Himalayas feed. Its existing backend route remains in the code but is not invoked by this page. The environment also reported that `RAPIDAPI_KEY` was removed.

Checks: frontend typecheck and build passed; all 3 demo-listing tests passed; `git diff --check` passed. The build retains a non-blocking large-chunk warning. The screenshot browser was signed out and showed the public landing page, so I couldn't visually verify the signed-in job screen. A pre-restart hot-reload session logged an invalid-hook error; it did not appear in the fresh post-restart screenshot logs, but the signed-in screen remains unverified.
